To Benefit:

The Soldiers and family members of the Headquarters and Operations Company/741st Military Intelligence Battalion and support our Family Readiness Group (FRG) a non-profit organization made up of volunteers dedicated to supporting the soldiers, family members, and the local community. The FRG is an integral component in soldier family readiness and provides a network of communication between family members, the chain of command and community resources. In addition the FRG provides social and emotional support to deploying families and those new to the area through sponsoring briefings and training on community resources such as predeployment/Mobalization planning, financial planning, family team building and stress management for a few. Now it is more important than ever for us to continue to show our support to military and patriotism. Our soldiers are deployed throughout the world in both peace keeping operations and in support of the Global War on Terrorism in Afghanistan and Iraq. Most of our active duty soldiers will spend at a minimum of six months to a year separated from their families and their unit; while those on reserve status are often spending up to 565 days deployed away from their homes and families.
